James M. Roper

Mr. James M. Roper, a well-known citizen of this county residing near Charles Town, died yesterday afternoon in the 63d year year(sic) of his age. Mr. Roper had, some thirty years ago, received an injury to one of his legs by a horse falling upon it, and this limb had given him more or less trouble ever since. Finally last week he complained very much after being in town on Tuesday, and on Saturday was taken to his bed, gangrene having set in. Amputation was suggested, but this he would not agree to until yesterday. Drs. Miller, t Pitman and Venning therefore assembled at the home to perform the operation, and chlorotorm was being administered preparatory thereto when Mr. Roper suddenly expired. The deceased leaves four sos and one daughter---- Messrs. Jame T., Nicholas O., Franklin G. and Harry L. Roper, and Mrs. Joseph Glassford; also two brothers and two sisters----- messrs. W.H.H. and Wm. A. Roper of this county, Mrs. Shultz of Brunswick, and Mrs. Cooper of Baltimore. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 3 p.m. today. Interment in Edge Hill Cemetery.

Several weeks ago Mr. Roper, whilst sitting on his porch with a friend, selected and named his own pallbearers friends and neighbors, whom he wished to lay him in his last resting place, viz: Messrs. B.F. Ramey, C.C. Conklyn, C.W. Conrad, John L. Burns, John T. Colston, Geo. F. Walker, Charles Chamblin and Levi M. Porter. The names of these persons he left in the hands of his friend Fayette B. Souders, with the request that he attend to seeing the gentlemen at the proper time, saying "It will not be long", though at the time he was in his usual good health.

Notes

Advocate Newspaper Clipping, suit Etta M. Roper vs. Florance M. Glassford and others.

The decree of Judge Woods in the case of Etta M. Roper vs. Florance M. Glassford and others has been pended for a period of 60 days (?ing) an effort on the part of the defendants attorney to have it reviewed by the Supreme Court on an appeal In the Advocate's report of this case last week and error was inadvertently made in publiching the statement that the deed from Mrs. Roper's husband to Mrs. Glassford had been set aside as aving no effect whatsoever. The fact is that it was set aside only so far as it affected Mrs. Roper's dower rights. The deed otherwise is valid. The statement the (not legible) treated the property as his own after he had deeded it to Mrs. Glassford was also inaccurate (not legible) to rent had been collected from the property conveyed between the (not legible) deed was given and the death of the grantor.

-----Another Clipping-----

Judge Woods rendered an opinion in the case of Etta M. Roper vs. Florance M. Glassford and others: wherein he holds that he plaintiff is entitled to a dower interest in the real estate od the late N. Oliver Roper. The facts in the case are unusual. On the eve of his marriage several years ago N. O. Roper deeded his farm of about 100 acres south of Charles Town to his sister Mrs. Florance M. Glassford; the deed reciting that the consideration was the care his sister had bestowed apon (not legible) she had performed for him in years past. He continued however to treat the land as his own as long as he lived. Upon his death his widow, Mrs. Etta M. Poer set up her claim to dower in the farm charging that the deed to his sister was given to defeat her dower rights. Judge Woods decided she was entitled to dower, and that the deed to Mrs. Glassford is invailed.
